Russia Moves Along
A Real Airship
For Better Homes
If China Could Buy

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

THOSE WHO HAVE solemnly discussed Russian plans and prospects in Wall street, some distance from Moscow, and decided that Russia couldn't possibly succeed in anything because she has theories opposed to Wall street, will change their minds violently.

It is announced that Russia now stands first in supplying wheat to the English market. Even Canada takes second place, and the United States, once third, is now fifth. Evidently the Russians can produce wheat, dump it, and get cash for it.

Possibly our government's experiment in trying to lift prosperity by buying wheat above the world rate, accounts for the low American shipments.

The United States, now in the business of dumping wheat on its own account to get rid of accumulations, will have opportunities to judge of Russian business sense in competition.

GEN. WILLIAM MITCHELL, head of our flying forces in the war, tells you that the United States shows signs of striking out on its own account in aviation. He writes, after a visit to Akron:

"I have looked over the airship being built for the navy department at Akron. This ship is the greatest attempt of man to conquer the air. It will be able to cross the Atlantic four times without refueling. At reduced speed, it will be able to circle the globe, at the latitude of New York.

"In its front part there is a hangar which will accommodate from four to seven airplanes, which can take off or land on the ship at will, and all of its 'works' are inside it.

"Compare a ship of this size, costing five and a half million dollars, with a surface airplane carrier that costs from 50 to 80 millions. The airship, alone or with its airplanes, can destroy a whole fleet of sea vessels, and a group of them can defend themselves very well against air attack, with the assistance of their own airplanes, their power of concealment and their maneuverability."

THE DIRIGIBLE described by General Mitchell, more than twice as big as the Graf Zeppelin, one-third again as large as the biggest British dirigible, is 785 feet long, with a gas capacity of 6,500,000 cubic feet and a diameter of 133 feet. General Mitchell adds:

"An airship service around the world is now practicable. Passengers and freight can be delivered to the ship and discharged by airplane, making it unnecessary for the ship to land, except for repairs."

THIS COUNTRY is told, in all languages and accents of anguish: "You must help Europe to get on her feet. You must cancel Europe's debt to you, and thus increase the purchasing power of those who would be your best customers. If you don't help them financially, how can they buy from you?"

Why not help the financial conditions and buying power of Asia by trying to strengthen the value of silver, the only money used by half the earth's people?

CLASHES MARK OBSERVANCE OF MAY DAY

Shootings Claim Several Lives in European City Disturbances.

RUSSIA HOLDS PARADES

Police in Important U. S. Centers Mobilized To Prevent Trouble.

By The Associated Press

A police officer in Spain was killed, and several persons—officers and civilians—were wounded in various parts of the world in May day demonstrations.

In Berlin a policeman was wounded, perhaps fatally, when he attempted to break up a meeting of young Communists.

In Spain 15 civilians were shot and two policemen wounded, in addition to the one officer killed, during disturbances in the San Jacime plaza. Forty persons suspected of being Communists were arrested for violating an order against demonstrations in public.

Gunfire was resorted to in the Ruhr district—at Methmann—and a workman and a Communist alderman were seriously wounded.

The cry of "Long live Stalin!" roared through the streets of Moscow where the demonstration took the form of parades of soldiers to show Soviet Russia's preparedness for "the war of intervention."

Joseph Stalin, bare-headed and in a khaki shirt, sat in the reviewing stand in Red square from 9 a. m. until late in the afternoon, while 30,000 soldiers marched past in a demonstration of soviet Russia's preparedness for the "war of intervention."

Nearly 200 American engineers, brought from their distant posts at the government's expense, sat near him, and there were many Ameri-

PREPARE FOR MARCH

May Day Set To Start "Hunger" Group to Columbus.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., May 1—May day in Ohio was the signal for demonstrations launching a "hunger" march" on the state capitol, where on May 10 the Ohio unemployed council will petition the state legislature for unemployment insurance.

The "first division" was scheduled to leave Cleveland today. The approximately 100 marchers hope to gather recruits enroute. Fifty more were to start from Youngstown, 45 will leave Bridgeport and St. Clairsville, May 3; 25 start from Toledo, May 4, and the last 25 will head north from Cincinnati May 5. The council expects close to 400 to participate in the rally on the capitol steps.

As a preliminary unemployed demonstrations were announced for Cleveland, Akron and Youngstown. Five thousands were to mass in Cleveland's public square and listen to orators. Police made their usual preparations to interfere only in case of disturbances.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 1 — Communist agitators held a demonstration on the public square here at noon today.

George Flick, communist organizer, urged hearers to join the "hunger march" on Columbus. About 25 marchers, wearing arm bands on which was printed "On to Columbus," finally started southward this afternoon, facing the prospect of a hike until nearly midnight if they were to reach Salem, goal of today's leg on the trip.

ROOSEVELT ATTACKS REPUBLICAN PARTY

New York Governor Criticizes Government Machinery at Washington.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 1—A speech by Governor Roosevelt criticising "the conservative and reactionary party now in power in Washington" was published today.

The governor spoke last night at a dinner of the Young Men's Democratic club of New York, but omitted from his remarks references to Washington contained in the speech given to newspapers.

Asked if the omission was intentional, the governor said he did not realize there had been omissions and that he stood behind the speech as it was distributed for publication.

"We have reorganized and modernized the whole machinery of our state government," read the prepared speech. "In many other places, even in Washington, the clogged and creaking, cumbrous wheels of government machinery are geared to the pace of 50 years ago.

Governor Roosevelt had planned to go south for a vacation today, but delayed departure when he received a message that his mother, Mrs. James Roosevelt, was ill in Paris.

CITY CLEANUP DRIVE LAUNCHED BY MAYOR

Jones Names Committee Heads at Meeting To Lay Campaign Plans.

"Marion, the Cleanest City in the State." With this slogan as their battle cry, chairmen of 15 committees began marshalling their forces last night for what promises to be one of the most drastic assaults on dirt and disorder that the city has ever experienced.

Because of a misunderstanding in the securing of the room in the Eagles' temple where it was originally planned to hold the meeting, the meeting of those who will carry on the clean-up, paint-up campaign next month, was held in the grill room at the Hotel Harding.

Civic Pride Keynote

Civic pride was the keynote of the meeting, and while the coming dedication was used as a primary reason for the campaign, the establishing of a permanent policy of a cleaner city was the urge of the speakers. Between 50 and 60 men and women representing many of the local organizations, together with a number of city officials, were present.

Because the present campaign deals almost entirely with the city, Mayor L. Don Jones presided as chairman of the meeting instead of Dr. N. Sifritt, county-city health commissioner, as was originally planned.

Giving as its one purpose the creating of a cleaner and more at-

BOILER EXPLOSION BLAMED FOR BLAST

45 Killed in Detonation of Half Ton of Explosives in Brazil.

By International News Service

RIO DE JANEIRO, May 1—A boiler explosion, detonating more than half a ton of high explosives, was believed to have caused the terrific blast that wrecked the Brazilian naval laboratory at Nictheroy yesterday, killing 45 persons and injuring 70.

The navy department printed an official casualty list placing the dead at 10 less than the unofficial figure. The report added that 11 structures adjoining the laboratory were destroyed by the explosion.

Government relief squads searched the ruins all night for further casualties, with some sources predicting that all of the 400 employes in the plant at the time of the explosion were either killed or injured.

Although the fire hampered rescue workers, they succeeded in extracting many dead and dying from the wreckage, filling the Nictheroy hospital with victims.

DO-X RESUMES OCEAN FLIGHT TO S. AMERICA

Huge Flying Boat Hops from Canary Islands for African Port.

STARTED NOVEMBER, 1930

Series of Misfortunes Have Dogged Craft Since Launching Last Year.

LAS PALMAS, CANARY ISLANDS, May 1—Germany's big seaplane DO-X took off from Gando bay today, circled the city, and headed south in the direction of Rio de Oro, on the West African coast.

The distance from Las Palmas to Villa Cisneros, Rio de Oro, is about 200 miles. Villa Cisneros was one of the stops on the Italian flight to Brazil led by Italo Balbo.

The DO-X is resuming the trans-Atlantic flight to South America which was interrupted last November when fire destroyed one of her wings at Lisbon. She has been here since January and yesterday made her first trial flight since last winter.

Pursued by Jinx

After the damaged wing had been repaired she got this far but bad weather postponed further flight from day to day and in February when she tried to take off from Gando bay high seas battered her so badly that she had to be put in for repairs once again.

The DO-X is the biggest flying boat in the world. When she first took the air at Altenrhein, Switzerland, on a projected flight to South America, by easy stages, her appearance of tremendous power seemed ample ground for the claims of her builder that she would make the trip on schedule.

The first stages of the journey

"CORN SUGAR" KING GETS PRISON TERM

Federal Judge Gives No Heed to Plea for Leniency in Akron Case.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., May 1 — Leo Iasar, former Akron "corn sugar king" was sentenced to 18 months in Atlanta prison and fined $1,000 by Judge Samuel West here today on his plea of guilty to a charge of conspiracy to violate federal prohibition laws.

Attorneys for Iasar pleaded for a light or suspended sentence on the strength of his appearance before the Summit county grand jury recently in connection with a graft investigation in Akron.

Judge West said, however, this act of Iasar had no important bearing on the federal liquor charge.

Iasar's sentence was the first here under the federal court ruling that those who sell materials to make liquor are guilty of violating the prohibition statutes. His specialty allegedly had been "corn sugar," one of the principal ingredients of bootleg liquor.

In a raid nearly a year ago on Iasar's Akron warehouse, federal prohibition agents seized 90 tons of the sugar and thousands of empty five-gallon cans.

Meanwhile, Ralph Garrison, husband of Hartung's victim, made preparations to bury his wife in Chicago, where she lived before they were married 18 years ago.

A verdict of murder and suicide was returned by the coroner's jury yesterday after the husband had testified to the serving of the fatal drink.

LION CUB EXHIBITED HERE ATTACKS CHILD

Cincinnati School Girl Suffers Severe Scratches; Animal Shown in Local Schools.

A lioness cub which attacked Vivian Leischner, six-year-old school girl, in Cincinnati yesterday, was the same cub exhibited on three different occasions in Marion in the last two months by William Harwood, animal trainer and lecturer, it was revealed today.

Harwood, who early in March entertained students at the Central and Vernon Heights junior high schools, and who lectured April 16 at a ladies' night party of the Kiwanis club, was asked to appear before Superintendent E. D. Roberts of Cincinnati today to explain his version of the lioness' attack.

On all three appearances here, Harwood exhibited his pet lioness and a bear cub.

Appeared with Lecturer

While in Marion, Harwood permitted the lioness and bear to leave their cages in his automobile and to appear with him on the lecture platform. Persons were permitted to pet the animals, but Harwood while here requested that young children be kept from reach of the lioness.

SHERMAN GETS SIX MONTHS

Proprietor of "Chicken Coop" Sentenced to Term in Workhouse.

PLEADS GUILTY IN COURT

Charged with Operating Unlicensed Dance Hall; Minors Among Patrons.

A. J. Sherman, said to have been proprietor of the "Chicken Coop" north of here, was sentenced to serve six months in Columbus workhouse when he pleaded guilty in municipal court yesterday afternoon to a charge of operating an unlicensed dance hall where minors were permitted to attend.

Sherman was not prosecuted on a charge of illegal possession of intoxicating liquor, which also was docketed against him.

Cases of six persons arrested by city and county authorities last Saturday night when they raided the "Coop" have been disposed of by municipal and probate courts.

Only other developments today was the establishment of the 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman in the home of Richard Sherman here by Juvenile Judge Oscar Gast. The girl was made a ward of the court after Judge Gast had decided the home of her parents was not a fit environment. She was to be taken from the detention home to the Sherman residence today.

Three other juveniles have been released on probation by Judge Gast to date. Others will be brought before the court later this week or early next week.

Meantime, the "Coop" remained under padlock of Sheriff C. C. Fye.

STORM HERO ENJOYS STAY IN WASHINGTON

No Indication Given as to Youth's Return to Home in Colorado.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 1—If the memory of hours Bryan Untiedt spent aboard a blizzard-bound Colorado school bus have not been erased by a change of scene it has not been the fault of President and Mrs. Hoover.

Invited by the President to spend a day and night at the White House, the youth's visit already has been extended to two days and nights, with no indication as to when he will be allowed to leave.

With their knowledge of what a 13-year-old boy would like to see in the nation's capital, added to facilities the White House affords, in the way of automobiles and drivers, the President and Mrs. Hoover have made the boy's stay a rapid succession of one delight after another.

All the entertaining has not been done by the chief executive and the first lady. Bryan, a skilled player of the harmonica, was tickled to receive a harmonica band and a package containing 40 of the instruments.

Every time he comes back to the White House from a sightseeing trip he is besieged by Peggy Ann Hoover and Herbert III.

A White House request is a White House command, so several times a day there is a harmonica concert of old fashioned tunes. President and Mrs. Hoover attend all of these they can.

There is a possibility Bryan may start for his home tonight.

The zoo was the principal stopping place on today's sightseeing schedule.

ANDREW STEINMETZ DIES SUDDENLY HERE

Veteran Shoemaker Claimed at Home Today at 3 A. M.

Andrew Steinmetz, who for the last 38 years operated a shoe repair shop in this city, died at his home at 285 Bellevue avenue today shortly after 3 a. m., following a stroke of apoplexy which he suffered late yesterday afternoon. Mr. Steinmetz is the last old-style cobbler with a shop in the business district of the city.

The aged cobbler had worked at his shop in the Main street store of the Smart & Waddell shoe store all day and returned to his home in the late afternoon apparently enjoying his usual good health. After playing a few minutes with his little granddaughter, he laid down on a couch and in a few minutes lapsed into unconsciousness. The child, realizing her grandfather was not well, called her grandmother.

Born in Seneca county, the son of Martin and Mary Steinmetz, 75 years ago, Mr. Steinmetz had followed the shoe making trade for many years. He first began work in Attica and later worked in a shoe factory in Tiffin. He came to this city 38 years ago.

An acquaintanceship formed with President Harding before he became President, existed throughout the president's life, and many special orders for shoes came from the White House to the Marion cobbler.

Mr. Steinmetz was a member of St. Mary's Catholic church and of the Holy Name society. Surviving with his widow, Mrs. Mary Steinmetz, are three children, John and Elizabeth, at home, and Albert, who lives at 253 Bellevue avenue.

Five brothers and four sisters also survive. They are Michael, Henry, Joseph and Martin of Tiffin and Louis of Pennsylvania; Mrs. Frances Phillips, Mrs. Pete Kuebler and Mrs. Charles Blase of Tiffin, and Mrs. Michael Siefel of Bismark.

Funeral services will be held at St. Mary's Catholic church Monday morning at 9:30 a. m., conducted by Rev. Fr. William J. Spickerman, and burial will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

The body will be removed to the home from the Hess, Markert & Axe funeral home late this afternoon.

BROTHER OF MARION MEN SLAIN AT LIMA

Lewis Kiehl, 56, Killed as Two Prisoners Make Effort To Escape.

NOT THOUGHT DANGEROUS

One of Pair Makes Getaway Through Window; Other Is Captured.

Attacked by two insane convicts, Lewis Kiehl, 56, brother of two Marion men and a guard at the Lima State Hospital for the Criminally Insane, was strangled to death this morning.

Kiehl was the brother of George Kiehl of 297 Windsor street and William Kiehl of 327 Girard avenue.

Strangled With Hands

According to the guards, the insane prisoners aided Kiehl while he was making his rounds of their ward and forced him into a lavatory where they strangled him with their hands.

One of the convicts, Samuel Nelson, 19, a Negro, eluded the guards and escaped, but the other, John Powell, 24, white, of Columbus, was captured as he attempted to leave the institution, according to Associated Press reports.

Hearing the commotion, other guards rushed into the ward room and saw Powell attempting to get through a window. They succeeded in dragging him back into the room, but Nelson had disappeared when guards reached the hospital grounds.

Nelson was sentenced to Mansfield reformatory from Cuyahoga county to serve a sentence of from one to 20 years for auto theft. Powell was removed from the reformatory to the insane hospital in October of last year. He had been serving a 10 to 25 year sentence for robbery.

Dr. W. H. Vorbau, superintendent of the hospital, who immediately started an investigation and search for the missing prisoner, said overcrowded conditions were responsible for the killing. He said that the ward in which the men were confined was built for only 25 prisoners, while at present 40 men are held there. He declared housing conditions at the institution were "impossible."

Neither of the prisoners were considered dangerous.

Besides his brothers here, Mr. Kiehl leaves three sisters, Mrs. Sophia Woodruff and Miss Anna Kiehl of Wadsworth and Mrs. George Thomas of Akron. He had been employed as an attendant for the last four years.

Ohio Girl Mourning Death of Dog Sends Governor Plea for Law To Protect Pets

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 1—A pathetic appeal to Governor White for a law to punish persons who kill "a poor dog" was made in a letter received today from 10-year-old Susie Willhardt, Phalanx Station, Trumbull county.

The little school girl told the governor her pet dog "Brownie" had been shot to death by "some cruel person" while she was attending school. She asked a law to punish persons who shoot pet dogs.

Included in the letter was a picture of Susie and a note at the top reading "this is a picture of my very own and I am going to send it to you. Do you think I look like a girl that should have my dog killed?"

The letter read:

"Governor White,

Dear Sir:—

I am only a little girl just a little past 10 years old. Today I came home from school and my dog Brownie was not there to meet me. When I came in and asked mother where Brownie was, mother cried and put her arms around my brother and I and told us that Brownie was dead and that some cruel person had shot him. He came to the door and cried and mother let

KING DIES FOR SLAYING FIVE

Hamilton Man Goes to Chair Unshaken in Claim of Innocence.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 1—Unshaken in his claim that he was a victim of circumstances, Charles King went silently to his death in the electric chair at Ohio penitentiary last night for the slaying of his wife and four of his five children, two years ago.

The 39-year-old Hamilton barber was electrocuted at 8:13 p. m., refusing to the last to amplify earlier statements that he was innocent of the crime for which he was convicted last December 4.

Before his walk to the chair, King expressed a hope that he might see his son Charles, Jr., the lone survivor of his family of five who were asphyxiated in their home at Hamilton, Oct. 24, 1929. The request was not fulfilled.

King, his eyes downcast, was attended by two priests as he entered the death chamber where about 20 witnesses waited to watch him die. As the guards adjusted the electrodes, King moved his lips slowly as though in prayer, but made no audible sound. Two shocks were sent through his body at one minute intervals.

Calm to Last

Father V. C. Dore, and Father J. J. Welsh, both of Aquinas college, said King was calm as his doom approached and made no last minute statement.

King was charged with first degree murder in five separate indictments but was tried only for the death of one son, Robert. The state charged he opened the gas jets as the family slept and then disappeared. Arrested a year later at Fairport Harbor, O., King claimed he had gone to his old home in Lima, O., the night of the tragedy and advanced the theory that his wife killed the children and then took her own life. He repudiated a written confession which officers said was found in the gas-filled house.

Governor George White twice declined to intervene in the case. The first appeal was made a week ago after the state supreme court had affirmed the conviction. The final effort to save the condemned man came yesterday when Burl Myers, Celina attorney, and other old friends appeared before the governor. Myers asked a 60-day reprieve to permit further investigation of the case, asserting he had new evidence that Mrs. King might have killed herself and the family when King left home to discipline her for using narcotics.

Petition Received

A petition signed by 158 residents of Coldwater, O., King's former home, also was read to the governor asking him to spare the life of King, whom they described as a home-loving man and a good provider.

Relatives took charge of King's body. Burial will be in Hamilton.

Charles King, Jr., now orphaned, was with his mother and brothers the night of the tragedy, but recovered from the effects of the gas.

THIS IS "Better Home Week," and in newspapers for which he writes daily, Calvin Coolidge emphasizes the importance of the home and its influence on human beings. He says, truly: "Only the people who live in it can make it a better home."

But others can help—for instance, those who make good furniture, carpets, radio sets, talking machines, pianos, vacuum cleaners, electric washers and heaters, good plumbing fixtures, comfortable beds.

Mother's Day soon will be here. You can celebrate it by buying her a comfortable arm chair, a better radio set, a good automobile with a comfortable back seat from which she may direct operations. Home, like a bird's nest, depends on what is in it.

him in and he died 15 minutes later. The shot had passed through his body.

"Oh! Governor why did they want to be so cruel and heartless to kill my dog? He was part chow and he never missed a day in 4 years coming to meet me, no matter how it snowed or how it rained he always was there to meet the school-van and walked home beside it until I got off. When I got my lessons at night he would sit up on a chair beside me. Tonight I cannot study. It hurts me so to think I will never have Brownie any more. He would not hurt anybody he loved us so.

"Now please Governor White is there some way they can fix a law to punish people that think nothing of shooting a poor dog that is so happy to meet its only playmates. I lived in the city until 4 years ago and Brownie was my best friend and playmate. I don't know how I will ever live without him. I am a good girl and will pass into the seventh grade next month. I have not missed a day in school in 4 years and I weigh 54 pounds, so you see I am not a very big girl. I always put Brownie to bed at night, but now my dog is gone. Please try to help me save some other little boy's and girl's dog, and God will bless you."

(Signed)
"Susie Vollhardt."

Governor White said he would reply immediately to the little school girl's letter and would send his sympathy for her plight.

in custody of Miss Opal Harding, assistant to Harwood, when it suddenly leaped at the first-grade girl, who was last in line to get a "close-up" of the animal. Miss Harding is said to have soothed the animal and invited the girl to come close and see it. In its second leap, the lioness caught the girl's head in its forepaws.

William Hunter, janitor, rescued the child while the trainer pulled the lioness off. The girl was rushed to an emergency hospital where a tetanus injection was made. Her condition is not regarded as critical. A score of stitches were taken in her scalp, and she was treated for other scratches and bruises.

Find No Rabies

The lion was as docile as a pet kitten today when examined for rabies at City hall in Cincinnati by members of the board of health.

Dr. Carl Mitchell of the health board said the animal was in excellent physical condition and no traces of rabies had been found.

Physicians said result of the examination strengthened belief the girl would recover from the scalp and back wounds inflicted when the lion lashed at the child with its paws.

Dr. Mitchell ordered the animal be held at Dayton, where it has been housed by Harwood, for 11 days for observation by a zoo veterinarian. A daily report is to be made to Mitchell.

The animals are chained during transportation to rungs in the side of the auto and move about freely, no partition separating the driver's seat from the beasts' compartment in the rear.

Described as Tame

"On our trips," Harwood said, "the lion frequently lays her head on our shoulders as we drive along. She has been a very tame animal."

When Harwood arrived at city hall the lion was loath to leave the auto but finally climbed from its perch as the trainer jerked on its chain.

Harwood rolled the lion on its side and opened its mouth with his hands while Dr. Mitchell made his observations.

After the examination the lion lazily got to its feet and was replaced in the auto where it quickly slumped down for a nap.

Superintendent Roberts today said Harwood had done everything possible to aid in the matter.

Says Cub Wanted To Play

Harwood said last night the lioness did not attack the girl, but only wanted to play with her.

The animals have been seen in Marion before this year, having appeared here a year ago before the Marion Rotary club. Harwood's lecture on wild animals and his exhibitions of the trained lioness, two bear cubs and an African dog have been popular in the schools of central Ohio for several years, reports given Superintendent Roberts from other schools showed.

Harwood is said to have a private zoo near Leland Stanford university at Palo Alto, Calif.

Collins, 504 Davids street. Circumstances surrounding the taking of the tablets is not known.

Eighty To Attend Dinner Tonight at First Reformed Church.

Completing the vocational guidance program outlined by the Y. M. C. A. and directed by C. Z. Zachman, chairman, a group of 80 men and boys will get together tonight at the First Reformed church.

W. S. Chambers, state Y. M. C. A. boys' work secretary, will meet with the men at 5:30 p. m., when a training course will be conducted. At 6.30 p. m. the boys and men will meet for a joint dinner at the church. The boys will confer with the men on plans for their life work.

Students in the junior and senior classes of Harding and St. Mary's High schools have been meeting with local business and professional men to discuss problems confronting the boys in the selection of a vocation. The vocational guidance campaign is being conducted by the Y. M. C. A. to aid boys in determining their careers.

CITY CLEANUP DRIVE LAUNCHED BY MAYOR

tractive city. Mayor Jones outlined what it is hoped will be accomplished by the organization, giving as some of the outstanding points the elimination of fire hazards, the promotion of a higher standard of health, and the making of a more beautiful city.

The slogan, "Marion, the Cleanest City in the State," was suggested by Dr. N. Sifritt, who was one of the speakers. "Let's not only clean up, but let's paint up and plant flowers," the speaker said. "Let's not only make Marion a cleaner city, but a more beautiful city as well."

"A clean, beautiful city is better than just a clean city, and with visitors from all parts of the country coming to Marion in June, who knows what economic benefits might come to the city. Manufacturers looking for new locations are more favorably impressed by beautiful cities," Dr. Sifritt said.

Names Committees

Fifteen committees covering practically every phase of the clean-up problem, were then announced by Mayor Jones. Chairmen for the various committees were selected from the group present and all pledged their support of the campaign.

Fire Chief T. J. McFarland, chairman of the fire committee, was enthusiastic in his praise of the campaign. The elimination of fire hazards alone was well worth the effort, he said.

Dr. F. R. Mann, chairman of the park board and chairman of the parks committee, was also enthusiastic. He told of what had been accomplished by the board during the past year and pledged his support of the campaign.

Dr. F. E. Mahla chairman of the health committee, said he regarded the movement as decidedly worth while. "There are many places in Marion at the present time which should be cleaned up and another summer such as last, might easily mean a typhoid epidemic."

Service Director D. J. Harlow, chairman of the streets and alleys committee, pledged his help and said his department would go as far as their finances would permit.

A plan of making an appeal from the pulpits of local churches some Sunday in May was suggested by Rev. S. S. Hardy, rector of the St. Paul's Episcopal church, chairman of the church committee.

New features in this year's campaign will be an attempt to improve the appearance of vacant lots, vacant houses and store rooms and the approaches to the city. The Kiwanis club, with Asa Queen, president, was appointed a committee responsible for the cleaning up of vacant lots and the Rotary club with L. C. Stang as president, for the improved appearance of vacant houses, while the approaches will be left to the city service department.

To Distribute Cards

Another new feature will be the distribution to every home and store in the city, of cards bearing a list of clean-up suggestions which the housewife and business men will be asked to check. The cards will be distributed by the Boy Scouts under the direction of Scout Executive A. S. Brooks, who, the mayor said, had pledged himself to the campaign.

Other committees and their chairmen are: Publicity and advertising, R. T. Lewis; industrial, Fred Scherff; merchants, C. Z. Zachman; better homes, Federation of Women's Clubs; schools, George A. Bowman; police, Chief Marks; sanitary, C. M. Tobin, city sanitary commissioner, employment, Fred Scherff. Miss Mary Ellen Kerr, secretary in the office of Dr. N. Sifritt, was named as secretary of the organization.

cans among the hundreds of tourists who have crowded in during the past week.

Police of many of the larger cities in the United States were mobilized for immediate action, but during the morning they had little to do. In Boston and New York, patriotic meetings were scheduled to be held just before the Communists gathered for their celebrations. Police guards were kept close to Union Square in New York, where a patriotic rally, sponsored by veterans' organizations, was to be held an hour before a communistic demonstration.

Boston common was the gathering place for patriots, communists and school children. Congressman Hamilton Fish, Jr., who has been active against the "communist menace," was scheduled to make an address. On the outskirts of the commons, 300 policemen were stationed to quell disorders.

Five thousand national guardsmen were on the alert in Oklahoma, but their commander-in-chief, Governor W. H. Murray, said he expected no trouble.

Governor Murray said previous information that communistic demonstrations on May day might be expected seemed erroneous.

Maniac Believed in Control of Ocean Freighter

By United Press

SAN DIEGO, Calif., May 1—The picture of a mad-man controlling a ship, the crew barricaded in cabins to escape his maniacal fury, was visualized by shipping men today as hours passed with no new word from the freighter Santa Cecelia, which early yesterday issued a call for help.

The drama of the sea was being enacted off Cape Can Lucas, Mexico, it was believed, as the ship steamed toward Panama from Honolulu.

Efforts of radio stations to contact the ship failed. Operators sat at their keys for hours at a stretch, failing to get an answer to their calls.

First information of the crew's plight was contained in a radio dispatch to the eleventh naval district here:

"We need aid. Are there any naval vessels near us? Maniac armed, dangerously and violently insane, impossible to subdue."

No naval boats were in the vicinity of the craft, so the report was relayed to the twelfth naval district headquarters at San Francisco, where representatives of the United States department of health were called in.

A message went sputtering out over the air:

"By some means, give him opiates, in his food or drink."

PRINCE MICHAEL ILL WITH DREAD DISEASE

Queen Helen Refuses To Leave Bedside Despite Warning of Physicians.

By The Associated Press

BUCHAREST, Rumania, May 1—While his estranged father and mother stared coldly at each other from opposite sides of his sick bed, Michael, the boy who was king, today lay suffering with diphtheria, dread disease of childhood.

Two injections of serum administered by the royal physicians were believed to have averted serious danger of death, although it was said that anxiety must continue. The crown prince, who carries the title "Grand Voivode of Alba Julia," was running a high temperature.

The physicians warned Queen Helen, mother of Michael, that she must not endanger her own life or run the risks of contagion by too constant attendance upon the patient, who is nine years old.

Helen looked at King Carol, who was standing near her in the sick room and answered:

"What is life to me? I have only one child. I shall never have another. My place is at his side!"

Carol, breaking a near silence of months in which he is said to have spoken to her only from over his shoulder, reiterated the physician's warning, but Helen only shook her head.

It is the second time this year that Michael has been ill.

When Carol was called to his son's bedside, he was having his political troubles at the same time. Premier Jorga dissolved parliament and called new elections for next month against widespread popular protests. Crowds ranged the streets of Bucharest during the night.

Mad Pursuit

CHAPTER 11

In the Ship's Wake

N until she was aboard ship id she realize what she had Her heart came up in her at when they reached the n. Nicholas was walking about viously. It made her feel sorry him. If she were frightened. w much more he seemed to be. talked in disjointed sentences things that did not matter at Nothing. What did the doctor about your hand?"

Oh, that?" he asked, his face my smiling. I told you—it will all right."

Did he say how long it would

Oh, in just a little while—" He laughed. His thin cheeks had a dark red flush and his eyes looked

A gay future before you—be-fore we—land you'd better cable my family. I always forget those things. You'll remember."

He caught up his hat. "I think I'll take a walk around and see what's happening."

But he came back to the doorway. "You've got the tickets and everything? The passport's on the berth—and you've got my family's address?"

She nodded. How strange and remote he was, she thought as he rushed away down the corridor. Suddenly she slipped down on her knees, her face against the berth, and began to cry.

Married. Married. Married. Why hadn't some one told her it was like this. That she was trapped. That her happiness depended on a strange man she did not even . . . love. He excited her, but there was no security, no peace, no understanding.

"He's taking me home," she thought.

She was able to lie down and picture Nicholas' home so plainly, the old house dreaming on the river bank beneath its great trees, the little waves that rolled in against a pebbly shore.

Nora woke with a start. Looking about, she saw that Nicholas had not come down to the cabin.

She heard a stormy sea rage past. Suddenly she knew what she must have known from the moment she saw his face in the Naples station: the doctor had not said that Nicholas' hand would be better. He could never use it again. And he was afraid to tell her. Now she understood that flush in his cheeks, his feverish eyes, his strange movements. She put a coat over her pajamas, slid her feet into slippers and ran out. The corridors were deserted.

When she reached the deck at first the wind seemed to tear her breath away, but she fought her way forward. The deck was deserted. She peered in through the misted windows of the smoking-room but only a red-faced man and a boy were drinking gloomily at a small table. She continued to fight her way against the wind, as though she were struggling against some invisible adversary.

At last she saw she was approaching the door again. She tore it open and stood inside, breathless. A sleepy steward came toward her.

"It's no night to be out, miss," he said, looking at her wild hair and her white face.

"My husband . . ." she panted.

"No one's been on deck for an hour, miss. It ain't safe," he said.

Nicholas, of course, was in the cabin. But when she opened her cabin door and called his name there was no answer. She stared about its emptiness.

He had hidden himself from her because he was suffering. Or was it that dark sky, that terrible sea that made her think such things? After all, she knew nothing about Nicholas. His bitterness was only the cloak he wore to hide an almost insane sensitiveness. Suddenly she was horribly frightened. She lay down in the bunk at last, hearing his footsteps in her own wild heart beats, until at last, near morning, she fell asleep.

As for Nicholas, some time in that dark night he had drowned himself in the white wake of the ship.

Someone had knocked at Nora's door and she had fung it open to see the ship's doctor. She needed no words to tell her now. She knew.

"He's drowned!" she said, her voice singing off into the distance.

She had known it all the time. Before they had made the search of the ship from engine room to lifeboats. She had known something like this, dimly, when she had firs met him. Something that had warned her that he was suffering horribly.

When the doctor left she lay on her bunk looking out through the porthole. "Poor Nicholas! Poor Nicholas!" a voice sighed far away. Was it her own voice? What tortures he must have gone through until he had dropped into that black sea! She could not think this way. She would go mad. She had forced open the porthole and peered out at the ocean. It was calm and sunlit. How easy to slip down into those glassy waters, to feel them swallow you.

Why hadn't she known that last night when he had acted so strange and wild, when he had given her those last directions? But she had been too wrapped up in her own fears.

All the things she had hidden from herself stood out stark and naked. She had married him because she was afraid. Afraid of the life she must live with her father and Helen Nevers.

She remembered how he had told her with a trace of gentleness about the old house to which he was taking her. He was sending her to his people, to his home. It was all he could give her.

"He liked me! Oh, he really liked me!" Nora thought.

And for the first time she wept bitterly.

To Be Continued.

"Heart of a Wife"

BY ADELE GARRISON

Hank and Bill Carry Off the Meeting

AS LILLIAN and I entered the living-room where she had left the boys, I was ludicrously reminded of something I had once read of the customs of plains cattle when menaced by an enemy, how they formed a ring with bodies close together, heads thrust out before them, in challenge.

It so happened that our "menfolk" were grouped in such a curve at the opposite side of the room from the door. Harry and Dicky were standing on either side of Bill and Hank who were so close together that they seemed to be arm in arm. Between Dicky and Bill, Junior's head was thrust forth from his body as close to Bill as he could get, and not actually jostle him, while Roderick occupied a similar position between Hank and Harry. The small boys had promised to say nothing of the burned trousers, but they patently meant to miss nothing of the effect of the boys' new toggery.

I was glad to see that Mary forgot her mocking gayety in genuine sisterly feeling when she spied the boys.

"Oh, hello, there!" she called and made a little rush toward them. They met her more than half way across the room and by the time she had embraced and kissed them warmly, Marion was standing close behind her.

"Hello, Bill; Hello, Hank!" she said, giving a hand to each of them. She was not in the least embarrassed and the boys betrayed their own confusion only in their heightened color and the boisterous handshake which Hank gave her, contrasted with the diffident way in which Bill clasped her hand and apparently forgot to let go of it, until she drew it away with a little laugh.

"Look here you kids," Mary's voice struck in, saving Bill's embarrassment. "What's the matter with you? Here ever since Winter when those cadets were at the party, I've been waiting to see you bow from the waist. Don't they teach you that up at Worcester? If they don't, Aunt Madge," she rattled on, turning to me, "I'd bring 'em home."

"Sure, we know how," Hank said unmindful of Bill's scowl, and I realized that he was far less embarrassed than his older brother. In his grandmother's picturesque vocabulary, he was the "brasher" of the two boys.

He stepped back upon a line with Bill and hit his brother a smart blow upon the shoulder.

"Straighten up, old kid," he admonished, "and give the girls a treat. Ready, one, two, three!"

Eliminating Competition

He bent from the waist in what was a fairly creditable imitation of the real thing, and Bill, red to his ears, was but a second behind him. When they straightened up again, both Mary and Marion clapped their hands delightedly—a procedure which Junior and Roderick immediately imitated, with the unerring facility of small boys for getting into the center of things.

"Do it again!" they chorused, but the next instant each was held aloft wriggling. I had seen Dicky wink at Harry, and was not surprised at the effective method they had devised to remove the obstreperous younger lads from the limelight.

"Come out on the veranda," Mr. Underwood said, "and we'll teach you the real way to do that stunt."

They were borne away patently divided between disappointment and pleasurable anticipation, and Bill wiped his forehead, muttering an expressive "Gee!" But Hank turned to Marion.

"Got any new dance records?" he asked.

"I don't know," she answered. "I haven't been home very long."

"Depends on what you call 'new,'" Mary said. "We haven't been doing any dancing since Easter."

"No new ones since then?" Hank demanded, plainly horrified. "Police! Say kid, it's lucky we brough those along. Let's get 'em."

"I'll go." Bill moved his long legs swiftly toward the door, and we heard him taking the steps two at a time. He was back almost as soon as he had gone, with a group of phonograph records in his hands. Hank put out his hands to take them, but Bill did not appear to see him and stopped short at Marion's side.

"Do you know these?" he asked diffidently, and Lillian gave me a delighted pinch. Bill was not as slow as he had appeared at first.

Marion bent over them attentively.

"These two I know," she said "but I've never heard the others. They look awfully interesting. Are they?"

I paid a mental tribute to her tact. She had assumed that the boys now were dancing, although she must have had a vivid memory of their panic-stricken refusal to join in the Christmas revels.

"They're swell," Hank struck in. "Put one on, Bill, and we'll have a try at it."

My arm again felt Lillian's prodding fingers, and I caught back a smile at Hank's strategy. With Bill busy at the phonograph he would be able to dance first with Marion.

But as Bill opened the phonograph and put on the record, Katie's voice sounded from the doorway.

"Dinner is served, Missis Graham."

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDD M. LEWIS

TOMORROW will be Saturday and maybe we will all go fishing. Youniss wants to go out after strawberries but what good are flowers.

When I had et Jubilee down and had went down after I had put on my short britches of course, and had milked the cows in them and went in the house to feed my face and asted my grandfather if he had ever caught a turd on a fish hook and he said he had caught lots of them. He said he was fishing on the jetty at Galveston, which is in Texas, and was using srimp for bait, and he said a srimp is like a little crawfish without any claws, and he said the gulls was so thick around him trying to get at his bait that when he swung a srimp through the air to get it far out in the water a gull would grab it before it could hit the water, so after a while he stopped fishing for fish and caught gulls as fast as he could pull them in.

He said he caught a lot of gulls and skun them, and he says their feathers are very white and smooth and soft, and he sold the skin off their breasts to a milliner store to make ladys hats of for five dollars each. Then he said he had a lot of shark hooks and he used the skun gulls for bait and hung the shark hooks to the trees around his cabin and the next morning he had a live wildcat hanging on each hook, and he skun them and sold their hides. Then my ant said, "Well, go on." And my grandfather told her what she meant, and she said what did he catch when he used the wildcats for bait, and he said he didn't use them for bait, he sold them to restaurants to make veal potpies out of, then my ant couldn't eat any more she said because he had turned her stummick, and he said he had never touched her stummick, and she said he was a disgusting old lire, and he said for her to cheer up because she had et pretty near all the breakfast there was before she quit. So me and Youniss and Feeble skun out before I got blamed for something.

Mush's wife has had a lot of roses planted all around the sides of the schoolhouse, and she said if they lived till school let out she would have roses all summer, and Feeble told her she looked like a rose herself, and Mush's wife grinned and patted her on the head and said she was a good little girl, and then Feeble began to sing the last rose of summer, and Mush's wife said if she was her mother she would spank her till her nose bled, and we were all hollering and scorawing when the school bell rang and spoilt our fun for us. But tomorrow will be Saturday, and if I don't have to mind Annabelle Lee I will have a good time. If I do I will take Jubilee's rope and tie her up somewhere to keep her out of mischief. I think that is a good idee, if my mother don't find it out.

THE ANSWER TO SUBSTITUTION IS ALWAYS.... "NO"

HOW CAN YOU JUDGE THE VALUE BEHIND AN UNKNOWN LABEL?

IT IS EASY enough to buy wisely when you can see what you are getting.

But how about those products that you can't see?

Foods, drugs, toilet necessities—all hidden by a bottle or a package.

If you do not recognize the name on the label, how can you judge the value behind it?

You can't!

Shopping experience has proved this to millions of women. But experience uses bitter methods. Costly methods.

When you buy only those products which you see advertised regularly week after week, in newspapers and magazines—when you are guided by the names you know—you are safe.

But when you experiment with untried brands—substitute products which you are told are "just as good"—you may be sorry.

The manufacturer who knows the wisdom of advertising also knows the folly of false claims.

His integrity is the integrity of his product. Your good will is the rock on which he stands. If it crumbles, his success goes with it into dust.

The truthful, consistent advertising of any manufacturer is proof of his pride in the merchandise he offers you.

But it is even more than that. It is his promise of constant quality and definite purity. Of honest weight. Of full value in return for your money and your confidence.

These facts are published by this newspaper in an earnest attempt to help you buy more wisely.

Accurate information is your only positive protection against the many disappointments which often hide behind an unknown label.

MARION AUTO CLUB TO AID MOTORISTS

Small towns and villages in this district will be marked with signs directing tourists to Marion and giving the mileage.

In its business session the board of directors went on record protesting the proposed new method of license fees which the legislature computing the costs of automblie will consider this year.

As a convenience to its local members, the Auto club will furnish bond up to $25 for any member who is haled into traffic court for violating trafic rules, the directors decided yesterday.

At their next meeting May 20, the directors will entertain between 45 and 50 boys in the Schoolboy Patrols of Central Junior High school and St. Mary's High school. School heads also will be invited. Members of the schoolboy patrol will receive merit awards from the club for their service in protecting and safeguarding school children crossing the streets on heavily travelled streets. Where the directors will banquet the boys has not been decided.

WARNING ISSUED

Association Urges Caution in Operation of Oil Stoves.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 1.—Extreme caution in the use of oil stoves is necessary, the Fire Prevention Association of Ohio warned in a statement issued today.

The warning came as the result of several explosions and fires recently causing loss of human life.

"Oil stoves should be cleaned and filled in daylight only and never by artificial light," the association warned.

The principal causes of oil stove explosions were listed by the association as: permitting the tank containing fluid to overflow; wick too small, turned too high or not kept trimmed; faucet opened too wide or not properly cut off when stove not in use; flame carried too high; stove allowed to become overheated. When a stove is used near a wooden partition, the exposed woodwork should be protected by sheet metal or asbestos board, the association said.

KIWANIANS HEAR ADDRESS ON FUND

Rev. L. A. Wood, Pastor of Trinity Church, Points to Need of Agency.

A community building project rather than purely charity proposition, was the interpretation placed on the Community Fund by Rev. Lawrence A. Wood, pastor of the Trinity Baptist church, in a talk to the Kiwanis club at the Marion club yesterday.

Belief that the project is intended primarily for charity work is common among those who are not familiar with its purpose, the speaker said. "While charity work is included in its purpose, the primary object is the development of a community spirit which will make Marion one of the best cities in the state," he declared.

The speaker also said the coming drive will be more vital to the city's future than is generally supposed. "If the fund is compelled to take a cut this year," Rev. Wood said, "next year will find citizens saying, 'O, well, it can't be done,' and the city will lose one of its most vital needs,—belief that any worth while thing can be put over."

Next week the club will observe music week. A program of vocal and instrumental music and a talk on music appreciation, will be features of the meeting. The program will be in charge of A. A. Van Atta.

BOTH FORCES CLAIM VICTORY

Heavy Fighting Takes Place Between Portuguese Government and Rebels.

By The Associated Press

LISBON PORTUGAL, May 1 — The government claimed today that its expeditionary force sent to Madeira to bring that island back under the Lisbon authority had landed troops near Funchal and forced the rebels back upon the city at several points.

The landing was made under cover of a heavy bombardment of the island city, and a number of shells from the warship Vasco Da Gama and Vouga fell in populous sections of Funchal which was believed here to have been deserted by civilians.

In some quarters here it was commented that the victories reported by the government did not mean that the rebels had lost their fight against the expeditionary force, since Funchal is fortified both by men and nature and easy to defend against a large attacking force.

WOOD DISPUTES BORAH'S VIEWS

Defends Executive Branch of Government in Dispute Over Expenses.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 1 — Representative Wood today had come to the defense of the executive branch in arguments over responsibility for increasing federal expenditures.

The chairman of the last house appropriations committee laid the blame to congress and to the demands of special groups. He premised this view yesterday in answer to a statement by Senator Borah that an expensive "bureaucracy" was being established in the government.

Borah held a large part of the censure for creation of an "extravagant" form of government should be attributed to the executive branch. Wood replied that "the largest part of the increase lies at the door of new legislation passed by congress authorizing or compelling such expenditure, in considerable degree in opposition to the executive."

"If the Idaho Republican senator will examine authorization bills passed by congress over the opposition of the executive Wood asserted, " he will find that congress has an infinitely larger responsibility for increased expenditures than he now believes."

Wood scanned Borah's record to cite illustrations which he said would show the senator had supported the President against legislation to increase expenses. The Idahoan's vote to sustain President Hoover's veto of the new bonus law, Wood said, was an example.

Witness in Lingle Case Slain on Chicago Street

Anthony Ruthy, Patrolman Who Testified to "Vision" Identification of Murderer, Shot Down Near Place Where Lingle Died.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 1—A witness in the Lingle murder case—Traffic Policeman Anthony Ruthy 43—was shot to death early last night by an alleged bank robber barely 100 feet from the spot at Randolph street and Michigan boulevard, where Alfred Lingle was assassinated last June.

Ruthy was killed by Frank Jordan of Chicago, formerly of Rock Island who fired at the policeman in full view of hundreds of pedestrians and motorists, after two private detectives and Policeman Patrick Durkin, 38, had attempted to arrest him. Durkin was also critically wounded. The crowds were thrown into turmoil.

The slayer was pursued through the crowded streets by two policemen and Ernest Schaenblin. The latter seized him about two blocks from the Lingle murder scene.

Jordan was ordered held for murder by the coroners jury, after he had confessed to Mayor Anton J. Cermak, who took an active part in the inquiry that he was responsible for the killing.

Policeman Ruthy was the court witness at the recent trial of Leo V. Brothers of St. Louis, convicted of killing Lingle who testified he saw a "vision" when he previously identified Frankie Foster, Chicago gangster, as the man he saw running from the Michigan avenue pedestrian tunnel in which the Chicago crime reporter was killed. He was at the same post last night and was going to the assistance of Policeman Durkin and Leonard Benson and J. C. Woods, private detectives, when the shooting occurred.

The private detectives were seeking Jordan in connection with a bank robbery at Neponset and another at LaFayette, Ill.

MT. GILEAD JUDGE FINES HI-JACKER

Special to The Star

MT GILEAD, May 1—R. A. McFarland, 27, of Columbus was fined $500 by Judge Ethel Elder in the probate court here Thursday following his plea of guilty to a charge of transportation of liquor. THE FAMOUS Kellogg's WAXTITE Bag

...IT BRINGS KELLOGG'S CORN FLAKES OVEN-FRESH TO YOUR TABLE!

NO WONDER Kellogg's Corn Flakes are preferred by the majority of housewives. They are different in flavor, quality and freshness! Kellogg's Corn Flakes always reach you in perfect condition. This is because of the patented Kellogg's Waxtite Bag.

This special bag also enables you to keep the flakes fresh and crisp even after you open the package.

Other foods are wax-paper wrapped. Some on the outside. Others have an inside wrapper. But only Kellogg's Cereals have a sealed waxtite inner bag. Sealed against odors, moisture and contamination!

Kellogg's Corn Flakes are one of the most economical and convenient of foods. From a single package costing only a few cents — many treats for breakfasts, lunches, children's suppers, late snacks.

Ready to serve with milk or cream. No trouble to prepare. With a "wonder" flavor that can't be copied. For many reasons, it pays to get genuine Kellogg's in the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

After the customary instructions given to beginners, Allison walked to the tee and took a mighty swing. The ball landed on the edge of green No. 1, 140 yards away, took a queer bounce and rolled into the cup for a hole-in-one.

Salt Shampoo Revives Hair And Adds Luster to Locks

BY JOSEPHINE HUDDLESTON

THE modern tendency in hair cleanliness is fast growing away from the abundant use of soap and water and, although its advisability remains a moot question, there isn't any doubt but what the dry shampoo is daily becoming more popular.

The cry is that hard water and soaps high in alkaline content are drying to the hair and this often proves true. In addition to this tendency, bleaching, tinting, rinsing and dyeing treatments in such common use today complicate the matter.

And, truthfully speaking, it is this widespread use of such beautifying treatments that forced hair specialists to seek some means of giving their clients what they wanted without injuring the quality of their hair beyond redemption.

It has been discovered that bleached hair retains its natural gloss and health almost perfectly when certain types of oil shampoo replace soap and water cleansing. The same thing holds true with dyed hair. When either a dye or bleach job is shampooed frequently with ordinary soap and water, however an excessively dry condition results.

Then, too, women with gray or white hair know that frequent shampooing is responsible for the yellowish tinge which mars its beauty.

Bearing all this in mind, we are going to hear a great deal more than ever before about dry shampoos. Some of these are similar to the fluids used for dry cleaning garments. One in particular has an oil base which revives even harsh textured hair in an almost miraculous way.

"Old Faithful" Shampoos

Then we have the old-faithfuls of yesteryear . . . orris root, cornmeal, white of egg and salt. It is the later one that I want to stress today, for it proves highly beneficial in more ways than one.

Ordinary table salt is the preparation used for this marvelous shampoo. Salt, as we all know, is highly purifying and cleansing, and, although a bit tedious to use, the resultant beauty of the hair makes it well worth the trouble.

Just sprinkle a liberal amount of salt through the hair and massage the scalp thoroughly. It is best to stand over a basin or bathtub to avoid scattering salt over everything.

Continue the massage for five or ten minutes, adding more salt from time to time and rubbing it through the hair as well as only the scalp. When the massage is finished the hair must be brushed and shaken until all salt has been removed. This is the tedious part of the treatment, although it doesn't take nearly as long as one might think beforehand.

All salt removed from the hair, you will find your scalp glowing with the pinkish tinge which indicates stimulated circulation and, in addition to this, all trace of dandruff and impurities will be gone, leaving the skin immaculate. The hair itself will be free from oil and accumulations of dust and lint. A beautiful natural lustre will bring out the color and texture of the hair.

This salt shampoo may be taken once each week for months without the need of any other cleansing treatment. It is an effective remedy for the permanent clearing up of dandruff, it stops hair from falling out and helps to produce a more luxuriant growth.

Those who suffer from colds when wet shampoos are used will find this method a real blessing.

PETRIFIED FOREST IS LOCATED IN OREGON

Ranchers Stock Fuel Houses with Timber Discovered by Contractors.

By International News Service

ONTARIO, Ore.—Contractors are ... and ranchers rejoicing in ... of a buried forest di... the path of No. 5 tunnel ... below the surface and 4500 ... from the east portal of the ... irrigation project.

... contractors are mad be... ... area dug out is ... which means twice the ... is used. The farm... ... because the huge ... are as black as coal ... wood burn easily. ... stocking their fuel sheds ... tunnel dump ... timbers brought from the bore are several feet across and appear to be cedars. The grain shows plainly. No effort has been made as yet to extract single pieces to show the length of the timbers.

Workmen have cut through more than 200 feet of the petrified forest and have not reached the end of the formation. The trees lie horizontal as if pushed over by some gigantic upheaval, while far above the sagebrush covered surface of the terrain looks like a barren waste without a clue to indicate that the spot was once a luxuriant growth of timber

MOURMELON (Marne) — Five wild boars attacked an automobile on the state highway near here and fought the five occupants. The chauffeur succeeded in riding over the animals, killing one, but was stopped when a second was jammed in the steering rods. The other three escaped.

How Lucky Children whose mothers realize...

CHILDREN whose mothers appreciate the full importance of minerals and vitamins are indeed fortunate. They ought to grow up with much better teeth, stronger bodies, greater resistance to disease.

Plenty of calcium, phosphorus, chlorine, iron and copper are vitally important. Yet many a hearty meal is lacking in those elements. No wonder mothers welcome Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit.

Two Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuits and milk supply 10 important mineral salts and 6 vitamins — more than a third of the average person's daily mineral requirement. Every biscuit is double toasted. Extra crisp. Made of crunchy wheat shreds. Delicious for breakfast, lunch, the children's supper — a late snack. Ready to eat.

Order a red-and-green package from your grocer. Notice the certified food-value analysis on the side panel. You couldn't serve two better foods than these wonderful biscuits and whole milk. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

A New Easy Way to Wash Dishes And Do 2 Other Hard Jobs In Half the Time

Ever wonder how the smart shops get glassware and fine china to sparkle like jewels on display?

It's really very simple. You can wash your own dishes the same way—get the same results—and actually save half the time you now spend. Here's how they do it.

They use a product called Climalene. Your grocer either has it or can obtain it for you.

Ends Grease Scum

Add one teaspoonful of Climalene to a dishpan of water, use only ¼ the amount of soap you now use. It instantly cuts the grease from dishes and cooking utensils, makes glassware sparkle and china gleam. The Climalene-softened water; plus certain bland cleansing agents, cuts your dishwashing time ¼ or more—saves ¼ or more the soap you now use.

To Avoid Faded, Gray Washings

Use 2 tablespoons of Climalene, and ¼ the usual amount of soap. Clothes emerge soft, spotless, utterly without fading. For soap fade, and soap eat are ended this way. In recent tests men's blue shirts were washed 75 times without noticeable fade; sheerest French hosiery 100 times or more—to prove the blandness of this way.

Banish Bathtub Ring

Add a tablespoonful of Climalene to your bath water. It makes the water soft as summer rain. A quick, rich lather is made with soap. After the bath—just rinse the tub. That is all. There just isn't any "high-water" mark. No scrubbing—no rubbing.

Why It Cleans

Climalene instantly takes all the harshness out of lake water, medium hard water, and hard water. Makes it soft and gentle as rain water. So soft it does the work with ¼ the soap you now use. At the same time, due to certain bland cleansing agents, it instantly DISSOLVES all grease, dirt and grime, and thus cuts your working time ⅓ or more, in washing, cleaning and in the dishpan.

INJUNCTION ASKED TO STOP TITLE BOUT OF PRIMO CARNERA

Madison Square Garden Claims Legal Right to Services of Italian.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 1—If there is anything to the "gag" that it takes a dozen injunctions to make one heavyweight championship fight the two "title" bouts scheduled for this summer are off to a good start.

Whether to protect its interests in the championship struggle between Max Schmeling and Young Stribling, scheduled for Cleveland, July 3, or as their rivals claimed, to get some publicity for the bout, the Madison Square Garden corporation of Illinois yesterday applied for an injunction restraining Primo Carnera from engaging Jack Sharkey at Ebbets field in June. The Sharkey-Carnera affair has not yet been officially named as a championship affair but it is considered likely that the winner will be recognized as champion or will make a strong claim for the title.

The Illinois corporation asks a permanent injunction restraining the huge Italian from engaging in a "major bout" before he meets the winner of the Schmeling-Stribling fight, claiming to hold a contrart with Carnera which prohibits him from fighting before that time.

SPORTS

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK

ANYONE interested in witnessing some scintillating performances on the cinder path will do well to make the trip to Columbus Saturday to get a glimpse of the eighth Ohio relays. The final heats of the collegiate events will be run off at that time and there will undoubtedly be some record breaking performances turned in by the competitors.

Records will be in peril as the athletes toe the mark in several of the races and field events. Some of the best runners, jumpers and weight men will be anxious to earn themselves a niche in the athletes' Hall of Fame by turning in new meet records or even world's records.

Spectators will have to place all of their attention on competitors other than those from Buckeye schools in order to see some good performances. In fact the Castleman-coached team of Ohio State bids fair right now to just about run away with the lions share of the honors of the annual event. The scarlet and gray school is represented by one of the best teams in several years, even though George Simpson, the Buckeye Bullet, has graduated.

What I'd like to know: When is Hack Wilson, the 1930 home run king, going to start banging the horseshide out of the park . . . how much longer Ruths underpinning will stand the strain of the Babes' weight . . . will the Cleveland Indians hit a disastrous slump this season as they did last . . . what has happened the rookie infield of the St. Louis Browns . . . how many games will Wes Ferrell win for the tribe this season . . . will Connie Mack let Lefty Grove engage in a hurling duet with Ferrell this season . . . (I want to see it if he does) . . . will the Brooklyn Robins snap out of it and land near the top, despite their rotten start or are they just "another ball club," over-rated from the start by fans and experts . . . And while you're answering these you might also include the answer to this . . . who is going to be recreation ball champion of Marion this year? A prompt reply will be appreciated!

COLORFUL GROUP OF COLLEGIATE STARS IN OHIO STATE CLASSIC

Main Events of Carnival Will Be Run Saturday; 2,000 Contestants.

BY RALPH TEATSORTH
United Press Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, O., May 1—A colorful assemblage of college and high school track athletes gathered here today to participate in the last of the middle west's big relay meets for 1931—the eighth annual Ohio relays at Ohio State university.

Although the main events of the two-day carnival were not to be run off until Saturday, there were to be three hours of gruelling competition today in the divisions for Ohio colleges, high schools, junior high schools and the elementary schools. Today's schedule included 16 events.

On Saturday seven hundred of the country's leading university and college trackmen will compete for the major honors. Western conference schools were expected to dominate the meet as in the past. There were hardy representatives from nearly two score other collegiate institutions to dispute the claims of the Big Ten schools, however.

2,000 Will Compete

In all, the massive Ohio stadium will be host to some 2,000 athletes from 16 states.

Fleet relay teams from Ohio State, Michigan, Notre Dame, Chicago, Illinois and Nebraska will provide a major share of excitement during the meet. Rivalry in the relay events was expected to be the closest in history, with a strong possibility of a new record or two.

Such outstanding individuals as Eddie Tolan, of Michigan; De Armond Hutson of Denison university; Jack Keller of Ohio State, and Lee Sentman of Illinois, were present to add spice to the running of the speed events.

The field and weight events were dominated by the names of "Big Jim" Bausch, of Kansas; Verne Modermott of Illinois; Tom Warne, of Northwestern; Edward Gordon, of Iowa; Hugh Rhea, of Nebraska; John Pottle, of Michigan, and Ray Utterback of Pittsburgh.

On the eve of the meet there was an unconfirmed rumor that Sentman, crack hurdler of the Illini, had injured his knee by striking it against a hurdle. It was not thought he would be kept from competing in the meet, however.

High School Events Today

All of the high school events on the Ohio relays program, excepting the finals of the two mile relay, the half mile relay, the 120-yard low hurdles and the 100-yard dash are to be completed today.

Of the three score high schools entered in the meet, those which were favored to walk off with the most places were Columbus Central, Lakewood, Columbus East, Dayton Oakwood, and Toledo Scott.

Two events for Ohio colleges were to be disposed of today, the 100-yard dash and the sprint medley.

A banquet will be held tonight to get officials and coaches acquainted. Heats and lanes for Saturday's races will be drawn at that time, and addresses will be given by Major John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics in the western conference; L. W. St. John, director of athletics at Ohio State; George M. Trautman, who is managing the Ryder cup golf matches to be held here in June, and H. R. Townsend, Ohio High school athletic commissioner.

M'GRAW EXPERIMENT MAY BRING PENNANT TO CAMP OF GIANTS

However, Killefer's Gamble with Rookie Infield Seems a Certain Failure.

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Of the two principal "noble experiments" conducted by the big league formen this year, one gives every promise of being a howling success. The other seems to be a disappointment.

John McGraw appears to have made a wise move in shifting Freddie Lindstrom from third base to the outfield and posting the rookie Johnny Vergez at the warm corner. At least, the Giants were in third place in the National league today, the result of their third straight victory. Both Lindstrom and Vergez are clicking in their new positions.

"Pony" Infield Flops

Bill Killefer, on the other hand, has had no such luck with the "pony" infield he installed this spring on his St. Louis Browns. For a week the Browns went great, winning three of the first four, but since then they haven't done anything except loose seven straight ball games.

The Chicago White Sox handed the Browns their latest jolt yesterday, 10 to 9 in 11 innings. Harold McKain was credited with his third win of the year. Nine errors marred the conflict.

So relieved were the Yankees to get out of Washington after dropping three to the senators, that they drove Rube Walberg from the mound and beat the Athletics, 7 to 2, in their opener at Philadelphia.

Detroit hopped on Willis Hudlin for four runs in the first inning and got four more off Miller in the sixth to halt Cleveland's winning streak, 9 to 4.

Fitzsimmons in Form

Fred Fitzsimmons was almost the whole show as the Giants downed the Boston Braves, 2 to 1. The veteran right-hander held Boston to two singles, scored one Giant run and drove in the other.

They finally fed one too many southpaws to the Brooklyn Robins. After having lost nine games to the lefties, the men of Robinson jumped Jumbo Jim Elliott for four runs in the early innings, drove him from the hill and defeated the Phillies, 6 to 1.

Pittsburgh extended Cincinnati's latest losing streak to four straight. The score was 8 to 3. The Pirates got all of their nine hits off Eppa Rixey in the six innings he worked, Lloyd Waner heading the assault with a home run inside the park.

Rain prevented the start of the crucial series between the National league leaders, Chicago and St. Louis, in the latter city.

Two Cleveland Boys Win Amateur Boxing Crowns

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 1—Out of the milling crowd of 144 youngsters who started to fling leather Monday night, eight survivors were left today, each the proud possessor of a golden belt symbolizing the national amateur championship in his class.

Jack Pallet of Cleveland has two such trophies. The only champion of 1930 who defended his title this year, Pallat swept through the ranks of contending heavyweights to win his second championship with a final florish. The husky Clevelander scored a technical knockout over Earl Sather of Minneapolis in a minute and 40 seconds of the final last night after defeating Homer Brandes of San Francisco in the semi-final.

Pallat's victory gave Cleveland two champions. Babe Trisacro, chunky little flyweight, gained a decision over Eddy Ceresole of Oakland, Calif., to win the 112 pound title. New York, holding its first national championships in 26 years, also had two winners. The other four championships were distributed among Boston, San Francisco, New Orleans and Reno, Nev.

In addition to the two Cleveland lads, the newly crowned champions are 118 pounds, Joseph Ferrante, Boston; 126-pounds, Anthony Scarpati, New York; 135-pounds, Al Gomez, San Francisco; 147-pounds, Edward Flynn, New Orleans; 160-pounds, Frank Fullam, New York, and 175-pounds, Antone Polloni, Reno.

LOUISVILLE LEADS IN A. A. PENNANT CHASE

Colonels Take Second Straight Game from Minneapolis Millers, 5-4.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 1—Louisville's Colonels, 1930 champions of the American Association, are looking more and more like the team to beat for the title this season.

Minus the service of two stars of last year's champions, the Colonels today were on top with ten victories and three defeats.

Louisville scored its second straight over Minneapolis yesterday, 5 to 4, by taking advantage of Miller misplays.

St. Paul shut out Indianapolis, 4 to 0, for its second straight in their series. Huck Betts, a perennial jinx to the Indians, gave only seven hits.

Sergeant George Connally came up with another well-pitched game and Toledo defeated Milwaukee, 13 to 4, to make it two in a row.

The Columbus-Kansas City contest at Kansas City was postponed because of rain.

MARKET TONE IS IMPROVED

Better Trend Shown Following Recovery in Yesterday's Trading.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 1—The securities markets manifested a generally improved tone today, in consequence of the better feeling in Wall street generated by yesterday's climatic rebound.

The advance in the stock market lost its vitality after the violent flurry of short covering late yesterday, and the market turned spotty after a morning and midday advance. The bond market gave further evidence of the lifting of selling pressure. While the change of trend represented no fundamental change in economic conditions, it at least represented a growing conviction that troublesome situations had been smoothed out

Trend Uncertain at Times

The stock market turned hesitant again in the afternoon, when Pullman dropped three points in response to its quarterly statement showing net of only 15 cents a share. Bethlehem was firm in the morning, rising three points. U. S Steel fluctuated uncertainly. In the morning upturn, Auburn surged up 14, but later lost much of that advance. Allied Chemical yielded most of a four-point upturn. Miscellaneous issues selling up two points or so were Atchison, Union Pacific, Nash, Gulf States Steel, Johns-Manville and Eastman, and gains of a point or so embraced a wide assortment of shares

Dividend news was in the main reassuring, although earnings statements appearing were still of a character to cause doubts over maintenance of rates later in the year. The Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey declared both the regular and irregular extra dividends of 25 cents a share, although Wall street would not have been surprised had the extra been discontinued. Standard of New York also declared its regular payment. The oil industry as a whole, however, is having difficulty in keeping out of the red.

Better Than Expected

The $1 quarterly dividend ordered by Bethlehem steel was better than had been looked for by the more pessimistic observers.

The week-end business reviews indicated little change in the rally static conditions.

Call money was firm at 1½ per cent, as there was considerable loan calling, incident to the month-end settlements.

WHEAT PRICES IN BRISK GAIN

May Delivery Reports Give Impetus to Values in Chicago Pit.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 1—Wheat prices tended strongly upward early today despite announcement that deliveries in May contracts at Minneapolis were immense, more than 23,000,000 bushels. May wheat deliveries in Chicago were about 4,000,000 bushels, and both at Minneapolis and were implied that all the wheat available was transferred to farm board allies.

Definite announcement that Germany's wheat import duty had been slashed 58¾ cents a bushel acted as the chief stimulus to grain price advances Wheat started unchanged to ⅜ cent higher, and afterward showed all around gains. Corn opened unchanged to 1¼ up and subsequently continued to average higher

Monthly unofficial domestic crop estimates issued today proved more bearish even than expected, but had relatively little market effect. The average of unofficial condition percentages on winter wheat was 90.2 against an official estimate of 88.8 a month ago. Winter wheat production estimates of the private reports averaged 638,000,000 bushels for the 1931 harvest, compared with the government April forecast of 644,000,000

Denials that Germany's import duty had been reduced 58¾ cents a bushel came after the monthly private crop estimates were circulated The denials were followed by reports that the reduction would be fixed monthly, and was expected to be 50 marks a ton for May instead of 90 marks. Ensuing price setbacks here wiped out earlier advances. Continued reports of acute need of moisture in Canada were disregarded on the downturn, although previously a bullish factor. Corn and oats swayed with wheat

Provisions reflected upturns in hog values.

The Stars Say—

For Saturday, May 2

A LIVELY but tempestuous and baffling day is forecast from the dominant place of Mars both by lunar and mutual aspect. In every direction is seen contention and strife, violent expenditure of energies, even to the hazard of physical safety and well-being The high stimuli to gain by exalted ambitions, quickened by Mars and aided by a friendly Jupiter, may result in the "vaulting ambition which o'erleaps itself" unless the brakes be put on the turbulent tongue and temper, inspiring defeat.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year of great opportunity for advancement and fulfilled ambitions of high degree, but a tendency to passionate pursuit of these, with ungoverned tongue and temper, may lead to angry defeat, wordy wars and even physical jeopardy, unless stringent curbs be exercised. With coolness and wise counsel there is much to be gained. Shun accident and law.

A child born on this day may have definite and versatile talents with great enterprise and energy, but its tendency to quick, rash, clamorous and passionate actions may defeat very high ambitions.

One of our wisest presidents was a man of few but well-chosen words. A political friend, leaving his little joke, said to him: "Mr. President, would you say a hen sat or set on her eggs?" The President, with a twinkle in his eye, replied, "Well, up where I come from that is not so important as whether she's laid or lied when she sat[illegible]."

URGES FARM CREDIT SYSTEM

Most Urgent Need of Rural Industry Cited by Ohio Bureau Official.

BY MURRAY D. LINCOLN

Secretary-Treasurer of the Ohio Farm Bureau Agricultural Credit Corporation.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 1.—Because of the drouth of last year, the low prices of farm products and the general economic depression, the greatest need of agriculture today is a better system of credit.

Such a demand existed to an appreciable extent before the drouth. But the drouth ruined crops which were to have provided the money to finance the next year's crops, and which, also, were to have provided funds to pay taxes. The acute financial situation among farmers so brought about still exists.

A survey conducted after the drouth by the department of rural economics in Ohio State university revealed that the credit needs of Ohio agriculture reached an estimated aggregate of $24,000,000—an astounding figure.

More than 3,000 farmers of the state contributed to the survey, and of those in the 43 drouth counties responding to the questionnaire, 84 percent indicated they could and would use credit if it were made available. In the 45 non-drouth counties only 21 expressed a desire for credit.

The survey report showed also that approximately three-fourths of those requesting credit were for amounts less than $500, indicating that a large part of it was needed for operating capital.

Approximately 90 percent of the requests stated money was needed for feed for livestock. The second most frequent need reported was for tax payments.

Summed up, the farmer's credit needs are: credit machinery that can serve the farmer at all times and furnish credit on a sound basis; that will reflect fluctuating interest rates and the profits of credit operations back to the farmer; that will make loans available to farmers for a sufficient time to enable them to liquidate from the proceeds of the enterprise. Machinery, also, that will enable the farmer to borrow money at a reasonable rate of interest in order to eliminate the high cost of merchandise credit; machinery in which there is a local credit-determining agency set up to pass on the farmer, his method of farming and the use of the loan.

TEACHERS MEET

Men of County Schools Attend Banquet at Prospect.

PROSPECT, May 1.—The men teachers of Marion county held a "get together" meeting at Prospect high school Tuesday night, with 25 present. Two recreation ball games were played between the superintendents and other men teachers. The superintendents were twice victorious with scores of 12 to 10 and five to three. In volleyball the superintendents allowed the young men assistants one game out of six. The freshman home economics class prepared the dinner under the supervision of Miss Margaret McCall. C. B. Rayburn, county superintendent, presided at the banquet.

TAX TOO HIGH

California Woman Resents Charge for Undeveloped Land.

By International News Service

EL CENTRO, Calif.,—"Exhorbitant taxes" have a wide interpretation, according to Ed H. Law, county clerk, who has received a complaint from a woman resident of Imperial county charging that 58 cents is too much to pay on 10 acres of undeveloped land.

She stated in her letter that the land was sold to her in the belief that it was to be brought under cultivation by the construcion of Boulder canyon dam but that it was stony and worthless and that 58 cents was too much to pay for it outright, to say nothing of such a charge for taxes.

NASH

93% of all aviation motors in National Aircraft Show ...were Twin Ignition!

At the National Aircraft Show just held in Detroit, all but two of the aircraft were powered by motors with Twin Ignition (2 spark plugs per cylinder instead of one).

Nash, pioneer of progress in motor car design, brings the advantages of Twin Ignition to you. Both the Nash Eight-90 and the Nash Eight-80 have this superior type of power.

The Nash Twin-Ignition motor, with two simultaneous explosions per cylinder instead of one, burns the gasoline more speedily, more completely, more smoothly, more efficiently!

By actual engineering test of the same motor with Twin and single ignition, Twin Ignition produced 22% more horsepower, 5 miles per hour more top speed, and 2 extra miles of travel from a gallon of gasoline!

Of course you can get along without Twin-Ignition, but these cars—priced remarkably low—prove you don't get along so well!

Get the facts! Phone us—a Nash demonstrator will be sent to your door.

Daily Proverb — "A word unreasonably spoken may mar the course of a whole life."

Three hundred and fifty high school students in Martinsville, West Virginia, struck when the board of education did not reappoint the school athletic director. Young America insists that the great cause of education must go on.

According to a decision of a court in Lock Haven, Pennsylvania, only a woman can be "a common scold." He should have been gallant and stated that it is the decidedly uncommon woman who is a common scold.

Out in Evanston, Illinois, a police court judge released a husband, who became incensed when his wife served him spinach day after day, on his promise to eat that dish in the future without protest. Looks like a square case of cruel and unusual punishment.

The net income of one of the big country-wide bus services dropped from $1,337,812 in 1929 to $296,794 in 1930. Was it the result of the economic recession or is the explanation to be had in the fact that the improvement in railroad service and equipment is having its effect?

Commenting on the charges of certain Crawford county pastors regarding law violations in Bucyrus, Crestline and Galion, the mayor of the last-named city says that he knows of no vice or bootlegging there. Either the mayor of Galion is exceptionally unobservant or he presides over the destinies of a mighty exceptional town.

Based on returns from 1,000 cities containing more than a third of the country's population, all classes of crime excepting murder fell off during March from the record of the shorter month of February, murders having increased at the rate of a little over one a day. To be exact, the murder increase was thirty-seven, largely due to the wiping out of gangsters by their fellow-criminals. Not such a bad showing, some will be inclined to think.

Bishop H. P. Almon Abbott, of Lexington, Kentucky, told the National Church Congress of the Protestant Episcopal Church, assembled in Cincinnati: "Our best men are not always, in fact, rather infrequently, made bishops, and the result is that the church languishes in her leadership to the border of mediocrity and beyond." What's the answer? Is it an accusation against the church or a personal confession?

A Good Example for Office-Holders.

Attorney General Gilbert Bettman has the confidence of Ohio citizens. One need not seek far to understand why. By an imposing list of achievements, by a winning personality and an evident willingness to work hard for the state's interests at all times, he has made himself one of the most popular attorney generals—in fact, one of the most popular office-holders—Ohio has had.

It is a pleasure, for instance, to read his recent report to the senate committee on the acquisition of property for the new state office building site. And it is an even greater pleasure to observe the public's reception of the report. Mr. Bettman is praised for his work even by those opposed to the erection of the state office building. He can derive satisfaction from the knowledge that conscientious service is thus recognized without regard to differing opinions.

Mr. Bettman, in his report, rightfully claims credit for the accomplishments of his office in acquiring land for the building site quickly, economically and fairly. All the properties named in the general contract have been turned over two months before the time limit specified, the entire procedure requiring but five months. By voluntarily assuming the task of acquiring them, the attorney general's office saved the state approximately $330,000, that being the difference beween the appraisal value established by the office's independent appraisers and that established by the Columbus real estate board. The extra legal work involved cost the state nothing; Mr. Bettman performed it with his regular staff. He gives unstinted praise to Earl V. Shively, first assistant attorney general, and William J. Ford for their performances.

Mr. Bettman's promise that all property-owners who accepted the state's offer would receive the same price as those who came in later was kept to the letter. The good faith of the state was shown when an increase in appraisal of 5.24 per cent. forced by a jury's decision on one parcel of land was given to all other owners. Throughout the procedure, there was the same atmosphere of intelligent, fair conduct. The state office building site never can be the root of a state scandal, thanks to the attorney general's management.

Attorney General Bettman's performance in this matter of state business might well be employed as a good example for office-holders throughout Ohio.

The Weight Licensing Plan.

Should the personal property tax on motor vehicles and the present license fees be abandoned and the proposed plan to fix the tax on automobiles by weight and increase the truck licenses be adopted as a means of raising additional revenue, the tax burden on the motor vehicle owners of Ohio next year will be $64,000,000. What this means may be better understood when it is stated that this amount is the equivalent of forty-two per cent. of the actual tax receipts in 1926 from all urban real estate, that it is twenty per cent. greater than the actual tax receipts from all rural real estate and farm tangibles and twenty-four per cent greater than all taxes from the tangible property of all Ohio corporations, including public utilities, the same year.

These figures were made public and vouched for today by Secretary Fred E. Caley, of the Cleveland Automobile club and former president of the Ohio State Automobile association. Citing that the return from the motor vehicle personal property tax last year approximated $4,000,000, he says the present proposal is to secure $8,000,000 more by assessing motorists an extra $12,000,000 in license fees, which will increase the total license fees to $24,000,000. With a normal consumption of gasoline next year, the revenues from the gasoline tax will amount to $40,000,000, and these two sums make the aggregate set out by him which will be collected in 1932 from Ohio motor vehicle owners.

This aggregate is slightly more than equal to all the county taxes assessed in the eighty-eight counties of the state in 1930; it is equal to forty-five per cent. of all the taxes assessed for school purposes, it is equal to seventy nine per cent. of all the regular city and village taxes combined throughout the state; more than twice all special city and village taxes last year, and the equivalent of eighteen per cent. of all taxes levied throughout the state in 1930 for both regular and special purposes, including the tax for the new state office building.

The total tax duplicate of the state last year was $13,452,946,926, while the taxable value of all Ohio motor vehicles is estimated at $650,000,000, thus while the taxable value of motor vehicles is but five per cent. of the total tax duplicate, the proposal now before the legislature would cause the motor vehicle owners of Ohio to pay an amount equal to eighteen per cent. of the state tax duplicate.

The motorists of Ohio have accepted with very good grace the advances in the gasoline tax, realizing that they as users of the improved highways should do their share in meeting the cost of highway construction and maintenance. They have recognized the present plan as fair for the reason that they paid taxes on their cars, paid equitable license fees and paid the gasoline tax in proportion to the use they made of the highways. But the willingness with which they have contributed their share should not be taken to indicate that they will not resent any special burdens placed upon them; that they will not resent being selected apart from other property-owners to stand the burden of taxation which is as unjust and unreasonable as Secretary Caley's figures show the proposed taxation would be.

Ballyhoo.

The Ballyhoo is on again. Between now and June 10, the public will hear about the "Battling Behemoth" and the "Loquacious Lithuanian!" from then on to July 3, it will be the "Georgia Schoolboy" and the "Thundering Teuton," who will set the sport pages agog.

Photographs will be posed. Sports writers will trot out old adjectives, and try to think of new ones. The future of the fight racket will be discussed, and the past dragged out. Everything and anything than can attract attention and make heavy-paying gates for Messrs. Carnera, Sharkey, Stribling and Schmeling will be worked.

There will be legal action, or rumors of it, to stop the fights. All kinds of advertising will play a part in attempting to inflame the mass mind toward the importance of the two heavyweight matches of the summer season. All for men in a squared circle trying to pound each other into temporary oblivion—Sharkey against Carnera, and Stribling against Schmeling.

Will they pound? Will there be a knock-down-and-drag-out fight like the ones they used to talk about? Will there be even the skill which clever boxers exhibit against each other? Will there even be an exciting round? Probably not. The prediction may be confounded, but probably neither of the two bouts and none of the participants will stir up more than a passing ripple in the sports world, in spite of all the "ballyhooing" which will be devoted to that end. Heavyweight matches between fighters who have little but weight to qualify them are too far gone in public favor to be revived by hot air.

Sam Taylor, veteran air line pilot, who saved the lives of thirteen passengers by making a safe landing in a Cleveland back yard some years ago, when the three motors of his plane went wrong, this week saved the lives of seven passengers and that of a co-pilot as well as his own by bringing his plane down in a farm yard near Elyria, after two of the three motors of his machine had failed. It's not a matter of chance when a pilot repeats like that. It signifies alike skill and nerve.

The defense of the owners of the four ships of United States registry, seized on the Pacific coast for fishing within Canadian waters and this week condemned under a judgment of the supreme court of Canada and forfeited to the British crown, is that their vessels were driven into Canadian waters by stress of weather. As we understand their contention the stress of weather prevented their vessels from sailing in American waters but not from fishing in Canadian.

In explanation of their appeal to prevent enforcement of the Iowa laws aimed to eradicate bovine tuberculosis, 150 farmers of that state have filed with the United States supreme court a showing that on the first test 2,643 cattle, valued at more than $180,000 were killed, when all excepting 247 were found on federal inspection to be fit for food. Pretty hard on the stock-raisers, but then great movements for the welfare of humanity sometimes will go wrong.

BUTLER AND DISPARITY.

Smedley Butler, major general that he is, marks the difference between rank and rating and sets his own price on his dignity, when he puts up a Haitian slur against an Italian one. In the code of diplomatic courtesy, perhaps one government is as good as another; but in prize ring controversies, weight counts. A major general rather belittles himself, when he balances a major of heavyweight power against an exceedingly minor or feather-weight power. It is one thing to offend and be required to apologize to a touchy bumblebee, and another to be offended by and expect redress from a gnat or a mite. Both, in the view of everyday folk, are trivialities, but since they have won public interest, the Haitian incident claims attention beside the Italian one.

So it might be fair enough to give Butler one more decoration and rejoice when the time comes, with his retirement, to hand him his private, personal hat. Call him the champion offsetter, as much sinned against as sinning, as outstanding an enforcer of the Volstead act in Philadelphia as he was violator of the code of hospitality in San Diego; as impetuous a luncheon club speaker as he is a fighter; as sensitive to criticism as he is impervious to counsels of reticence; as indiscreet in talk as he is in valor, as lovable in private contacts as he is tactless in public relations.

Dub him champion offsetter, turn him loose from his leatherneck status, wish him on Oregon to run the new state police in a manner after his own heart—and let Oregon stand or fall by the consequences, provided full responsibility for all he says as well as does be accepted by that state.—Minneapolis Journal.

COAST TO COAST IN EIGHTEEN HOURS.

Postmaster General Brown predicts an eighteen-hour air mail and express service between New York and the West Coast as the next step in fast air transportation. His contention is that if one line should open such a service it would be followed by similar action on the part of other transcontinental organizations. In an address before the Bond club in New York Mr. Brown urged the bankers to support the aviation industry on the ground that it was now a business which could "stand on its own feet," and that it might do in a limited way what the automobile industry has done to absorb unemployment in the last twenty years. At the outset money was lost by those who went into aviation, but Mr. Brown is speaking conservatively when he says it is fast reaching the point where it can be called genuine enterprise.

Some idea of the growth of the industry may be gained by the statement of the Postmaster General that airplanes with air mail will fly about 50,000,000 miles this year and will carry about 1,000,000 passengers. These figures tell their own story; they show a remarkable growth in a short space of time. The people generally have not yet become accustomed to flying, but it is certain that they are going to become more and more air-minded. Last year and the year before there was one fatality on regular scheduled operations for every 1,500,000 miles of travel. This year, so far, we have had only one accident for each 2,000,000 miles of flying. There are some who consider that to have been an unnecessary one.

There is no denying the growing popularity of travel by air. It is still regarded as hazardous by most persons, but the figures given by Mr. Brown indicate that it is quite as safe, if not more so, than travel on or under the surface or by water.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

WHICH THE GREATER ENEMY?

Augusto Sandino has been declared by the chief magistrate of the United States to have "placed himself and his band outside the civilized pale by the cold-blooded murder of eight or nine American civilians and many Nicaraguans at isolated places in the interior" of Nicaragua.

Yet the anti-Imperialist League of the United States has the audacity to appeal to "workers and all anti-imperialists within our borders to give moral and material aid to Sandino. A statement issued by the league shortly after Mr. Hoover's denunciation of the Nicaraguan outlaw says in part:

"While Sandino and his army of liberation carry on the fight for national liberation it is our duty to support them in spite of Sandino's past vacillations and his lack of a clear anti-imperialist program. We must denounce his misrepresentation. Dr. Zepeda who again and again proposes peace between Sandino and American imperialism. And we must demand of Sandino a categoric answer as to his representatives or relations."

Which is the greater menace to this country, Augusto Sandino or, we take it from this admission by his American well-wishers, would like to sell out to the United States, at his own price, or the Anti-Imperialist League of the United States, which is aiding and abetting a bandit outlawed by his own government and denounced by ours as the murderer of American civilians?—Detroit Free Press.

Auto Travel and Malaria.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Within the past two years there has been a definite increase in the number of cases of malaria in the United States. Many sections of the country, which have been free from this disease for many years, are now reporting malaria.

Before it became known that the "Anopheles" mosquito carried the parasite responsible for this disease, malaria was a common ailment. Not only did it thrive in North America but it was found in all countries where this type of mosquito thrived.

After careful study of the anopheles mosquito, as to its mode of living habits, much was accomplished. With removal of this pest and measures of protection taken against their return the disease soon became a rarity. It was found only in communities and countries where sanitary measures could not be taken.

The disease is usually given its old name of "chills and fever." The first sign is a severe chill, followed by a high fever, sweat and headache.

The attacks are periodic in their nature. They come and go, the attacks usually recurring every other day. In some cases the fever is continuous, but in the majority of cases it rises and falls, first ushered in by a chill.

Some of the authorities claim the recent outbreaks of this disease are due to increased automobile travel. They claim that many automobilists camp in unhygienic spots, where the anopheles mosquito is still an inhabitant. In traveling from one state to another, they carry the parasite with them and thus transmit the disease to a large population.

In the state of Illinois malaria has increased as has the automobile traffic. On the other hand, where automobile traffic has decreased, malaria has increased as it has in other states. I think we must search farther for the definite cause of the increase of malaria.

Anyhow, we must declare a new war on the anopheles mosquito and in this way control the disease. This can be done only by careful screening of houses and the destruction of its mosquito-breeding places. These are the fresh water pools, stagnant ponds and infected swamps.

Everybody living in regions where the dangerous mosquito is common must protect themselves and others by adequate sanitary measures. During the malarial season, persons living in infected regions must arm themselves against the disease.

Let us determine that next season we are to do better. Let us renew our attacks against the pests which carry this uncomfortable ailment.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES.

H.D.C. Q—What causes a knotting in the center of the foot, making it feel tight?

A—This may be due to arch trouble, causing a strain or pressure on the involved parts. See an orthopedist for examination and treatment.

M.A.S. Q—What causes a prominent vein in the calf of the leg?

A—This may be due to varicose veins. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope for full particulars and repeat your question.

MRS. R.H. Q—What can be done for black stains on my little boy's teeth? He is only four years old. He eats of the proper foods and has had his teeth cleaned by a dentist. I am sure the condition is not due to decay.

A—I doubt that anything can be done other than brushing his teeth after each meal, as well as morning and night, and having them systematically cleaned by a dentist periodically.

S.A. Q—For the past few months whether the day is cold or warm, I have perspired excessively—so much so that it makes the wearing of the same gown more than twice unbearable. What will help a condition of this kind?

A—There may be some nervous condition at the source of the trouble. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.—Copyright, 1931, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Mathematics Pays.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

There was a time when mathematics was a bugbear, something to be fled from, like the plague. It was difficult, therefore it must be avoided. Students in high schools, colleges and universities still shrink from mathematics, because it requires clear, sustained thought. People don't like to think although they think they do. They like to have their hard thinking done for them. They are willing to do the easy thinking, which is, for the most part, commercially flashing things they already know.

Pure science, virtually without exception, depends upon mathematics. We can not arrive at exact scientific results without accurate measurement. Things must be counted, weighed, valued, measured, balanced against other combinations and aggregations which themselves have to be measured.

The pure scientist, so-called, who is working for truth, and not for practical results of economic value, must be given a free hand. No scientific fact can be rated valueless. We never know the day or the hour when it may assume a value of gigantic importance. A new scientific truth may prove to have enormous therapeutic value, or it may give birth to a new industry involving millions of money.

As Floyd Darrow says in his suggestive work, "The New World of Physical Discovery," "Who would have thought that the discovery of neutrons in the atmosphere of the sun would become a factor in the safety of airships? What relation could there be between the invisible radiations of Roentgen's vacuum tube and a method for determining the quality of structural steel? Would anybody have dreamed that the Polish girl's quest for radio active elements might lead to a method for treating cancer? What more fanciful than to imagine that Maxwell's equations should inspire a search which was to end in the radio conquest of space? Did Davy, as he performed those experiments in chemical decomposition of the Royal institution, have the faintest glimpse of the vast electro-chemical industry of which they were the forerunners? Absolutely not. Indeed, is it not, that Galvani's experiment with the frog's legs should lead to the first method of producing current electricity?"

All of these experiments either depend directly on mathematics or lead directly to research involving mathematics. All eventually give rise to industries involving in sums not millions, but billions of dollars.—Copyright, 1931, King Feature Syndicate, Inc.

The Ohio Counties.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

The oldest county of Ohio is Washington, established by proclamation of Governor St. Clair, when Ohio was but a portion of the Northwest territory. It was organized July 27, 1788, less than three months after the landing of the second Mayflower at Marietta April 7, 1788. The latest county to be established is Noble, which dates back only to March 11, 1851. The provisions in the constitution regarding the creation of new counties are so restrictive that it is highly improbable that other counties will ever be provided for.

Most of the Ohio counties whose boundaries are not natural water lines, are roughly rectangular, but all but one of them more or less irregular. One county forms a square—Trumbull county. Noble county, the last to be established, having been pieced out of portions of several existing counties, has the most irregular boundary line of all. There are thirty-one angles in it.

The largest county in the state is Ashtabula, with 723 square miles of territory. The smallest is its near neighbor, Lake, with but 241 square miles. Franklin ranks among the smaller counties, having but 361 square miles of territory.

There are eight counties in the state that have over 600 square miles of area, and so rank well up with Ashtabula in extent. They are, besides Ashtabula, Licking, Ross, Muskingum, Trumbull, Washington, Scioto and Wood.

There are but three counties in the state having less than 300 square miles of territory. Lake is, of course, one of these. The other two are also lake border counties, Ottawa and Erie.

From a community house in the Eighties comes an invitation to "drop in some second Tuesday of each month and bring your mandolin." It seems a group there organized an amateur string orchestra and "just play for the fun of it." My mandolin career ended with the appearance of George Ade's fable beginning something like this: "Once upon a time there were two mandolin players—Gerald and Ethelbert." In fact I believe Ade killed the mandolin business then and there.

Dr. Hugo Reisenfeld gave Borris Minnevitch the idea for organizing a harmonica orchestra. Minnevitch recruited mouth organists from all parts of the town, his aggregation including a dwarf and a colored boy from Harlem. A Washington Daybook.

BY HERBERT HUMMER.

Washington, May 1.—The revolution in Spain which removed Alfonso XIII from his throne also took from Washington one of the capital's best known diplomats, Senor Don Alejandro Padilla Bell.

The Spanish ambassador was a favorite in Washington. The Spanish embassy during his stay was known as a hospitable place.

Tall and slender, with a mustache much like Alfonso's, Senor Padilla has that personal charm and Latin manner which attract. That he had many friends here was shown by the stream of persons who called at the embassy after Alfonso quit his throne to express their regrets at the departure of the 60-year-old ambassador.

Monarchist or republican—both knew that they were welcome at the Spanish embassy under the Padilla regime. The ambassador had the reputation of never discriminating politically.

Padilla was the third ranking diplomat in Washington. But what was more important was the strategic position he held in relation to the Latin American countries.

He was the dean as the dean of Latin-American diplomacy in the capital. As representative of the mother country he had precedence over the Latin-American diplomatic missions. He was proud of his position and strove constantly to strengthen it.

Padilla's career in Spanish diplomacy has been notable. His posts include the most important capitals of the world.

Among his most diplomatic achievements was negotiation of the liquor smuggling convention with the United States laying down regulations governing the transportation of liquor on Spanish vessels in North American waters.

He also was a special representative of his country in the international conference on radio telegraphy in 1929.

A third achievement was negotiation of a commercial treaty between Spain and Italy in 1927 while he was chief of the commercial division of Spain's foreign office.

Padilla first came to Washington in 1895 as a diplomatic attache. In October of 1926 he was named as Spain's ambassador.

Four of his six children lived with him in Washington. One of his sons, Ramon, served under his father as second secretary of the embassy. Ramon, however, did not tender his resignation when Alfonso abdicated. He plans to continue in the diplomatic service of his country.

Padilla's great hobby is collecting pipes. He had assembled for the Spanish embassy an imposing array, picked up in all parts of the world.

RECORD DELIVERY OF WHEAT MADE

23,000,000-Bushel Shipment to Minneapolis Largest in City's History.

By The Associated Press

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn, May 1—Approximately 23,000,000 bushels of wheat were delivered to the Farmers National Grain corporation today in what traders said was the largest single day's grain transaction in Minnesota history.

The wheat, representing payment of approximately $18,000,000, was delivered to the corporation, federal farm board ally, as May futures contracts came due.

Little of the money goes to farmers, grain men said. Owners of the grain for the most part were grain commission firms and terminal elevator companies which purchased it previously from northwest farmers. Most of the wheat was in elevators here and in Duluth.

Unofficial estimates here were that the deliveries swelled wheat holdings of the grain stabilization corporation to more than 200,000,000 bushels

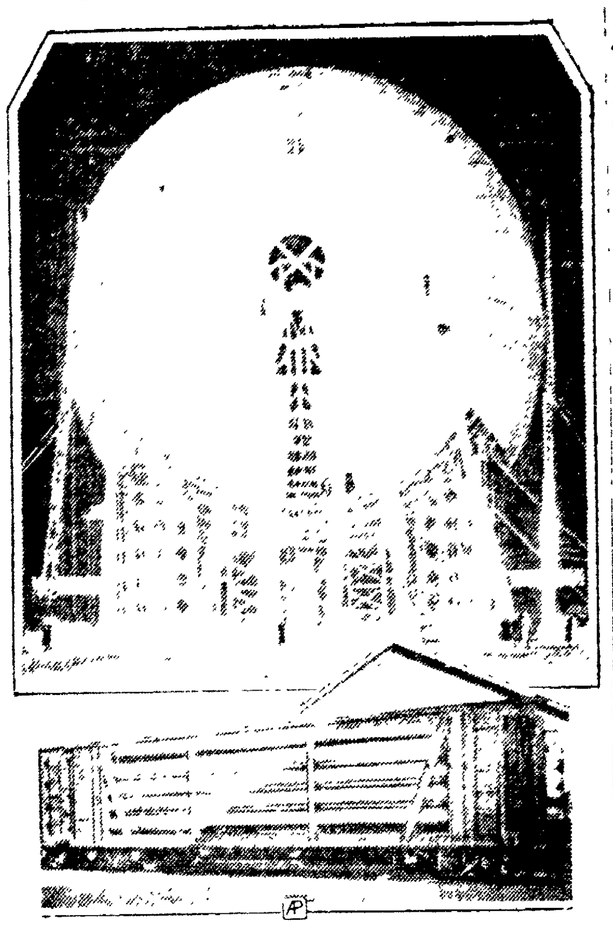
Filling of World's Largest Dirigible Gives Helium Plant Year-Round Job



The navy's new dirigible "Akron," with a gas capacity nearly twice that of the Graf Zeppelin, will require a 100 per cent increase in the output of the government's helium "factory" at Amarillo, Tex. The men shown working on the dirigible's nose in the upper picture are standing on 85-foot ladders. The helium for the Akron will be transported in special railroad cars, shown below, carrying 28 cylinders each.

By The Associated Press

AMARILLO, Tex.—Manufacture of helium to inflate the world's largest air cruiser, the "Akron," nearing completion at Akron, O., is under way at the government's $2,000,000 plant near Amarillo.

Storage units at Akron and Lakehurst, N J, are being filled rapidly, and by the time the big ship is floated, probably in late May or June, enough helium will be available to inflate it to capacity. There will also be a reserve supply sufficient to take care of any losses through leakage in the new gas bags

THE "Akron's" capacity of 6,500,000 cubic feet will require more than two-thirds of the 9,000,000 cubic feet of helium ordered by the government to supply both the army and navy for the fiscal year ending June 30

Its capacity is almost three times that of the Los Angeles, the largest dirigible in use by the United States, and nearly twice that of the famous German ship, the Graf Zeppelin

Anticipating bigger demands on the local plant, with the navy's new cruiser in the air, officials of the helium division are prepared for increased production.

It is generally necessary to refill a helium-inflated ship twice a year Such a schedule for the Akron, if approved by the bureau of mines, would require an increase of more than 100 per cent in production at the Amarillo "factory"

HOWEVER, it would be possible to increase the output here to 24,000,000 cubic feet of gas annually without expenditure for additional equipment. Even a larger quantity might be produced, while storage units have been boosted from 1,000,000 to 4,000,000 cubic feet capacity.

The new cars are made up of 28 cylinders instead of three large cylinders, as on the old style cars, which cost $50,000 apiece.

Marconi Studies New Radio Mystery in Ultra-Short Waves Akin to Light

"Nothing Impossible," Says Wizard of Wireless, Looking to Future.

By The Associated Press

LONDON — Guglielmo Marconi, the Italian scientist who has unlocked many of radio's secrets, is fashioning another key which he hopes will fit the lock to still more mysteries — those of ultra-short waves.

Whether the key will be suitable, and if so what it will reveal, Marconi, smiling, doesn't predict. But he says:

"Nothing is impossible."

GUGLIELMO MARCONI

One gains the impression that Marconi feels radio may be on the threshold of another great era of development. But that isn't what he says.

At the moment, in the light of what is known about them, he sees only limited possibilities for ultra-short waves.

"They seem to have some of the properties of light waves," he explains. "They cannot pass through obstructions such as buildings, but they can pass through fog, smoke, darkness.

May Guide Ships in Fog

"Thus they may be useful in guiding ships and trains—tasks of that nature. In a fog a ship could put a short-wave belt about itself, warning all other ships that come within that belt

"The great obstacle is that they can be sent only for comparatively short distances. They do not seem practicable for commercial use over long distances. Certainly not from here to America, for example."

He sees some hope for the future in that some way may be found to "bend" them.

Like Radio's Early Days

"We seem to be in something of the same situation we were in early wireless," he says.

"The first wireless telegraphy—about 35 years ago—could only operate over about the same distances. Many people thought that would be its limit."

Incidentally Marconi used short waves in some of his early work, sending about two miles.

Just how far he has gotten with his experiments Marconi doesn't say. He has a laboratory in London, but most of his work is done in his laboratory in Italy.

"We are just working ahead quietly," he says.

Marconi is quiet, soft-voiced and patient. He is of medium build, wears blue and is of fair complexion.

Some time in the fall he plans to visit the United States again, partly to see his friends there and partly "to see what's doing in radio."

Sees Possibility of Guiding Ships and Trains with New Device.

Dream Results in Recovery of Missing Coins

By The Associated Press

WAYNESVILLE, O. May 1.—To some folks dreams mean nothing, but to Jacob B. Strouse, one dream at least led to the solution of a problem.

Strouse's home burned in January, 1929, and among the articles lost in the ruins was a collection of rare and valuable coins. Several thorough searches of the debris failed to give up a trace of the collection

Recently, Strouse related, he sat down for a Sunday afternoon nap, and dreamed he found the coins at a certain spot in the ruins. The dream was so real, he said, that he called in Thomas Clark, a neighbor, and they visited the scene of the fire.

A few moments of digging uncovered the marble top of a dresser in which the coins had been kept, and underneath were the rare pieces of money, Strouse said.

A political minority is always angry You can count on that.

WHEELER, WOOLSEY BACK AT PALACE

The nuts are loose again. Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey star in "Cracked Nuts," coming to the Palace Saturday and Sunday. Their comedy partner, Dorothy Lee is with them again.

BERT WHEELER

The trailer showed possibilities of a lot of knock-about fun. Robert Woolsey was once a jockey, making some headway as a rider on Ohio turf. He was riding a Kentucky Derby entrant when the horse tripped and fell upon him breaking his leg and injuring him internally. He was out of riding for good. He became a bell hop and lasted at this until ambition and a travelling actor led him to the stage. His first great chance came when Ziegfeld chose him to team with Wheeler in a "Follies" production.

The stage show sounds versatile. St. Claire and O'Day are a cycling team, and in addition, add a bit of eccentric dancing to their act. Warren and Inman are a comedy team and the Marty Kay Revue offers five young people in a dancing act.

Miss Dorsey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Dorsey of South Vine street and Knauss is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Knauss of Windsor street.

Marion Woman's Brother Hurt in Auto Accident

L. F. Barney of Cleveland, brother of Mrs. R. A. Garvin of 368 Summit street, suffered a possible fracture of the skull and other minor injuries in an automobile accident Thursday morning in Delaware. Mr. and Mrs. Garvin were in Delaware yesterday visiting him at Jane Case hospital. Mrs. Garvin and Mr. Barney are both former residents of Bucyrus.
